keyfacts®

Please read the following document carefully to ensure that the Contribution Only SIPP is the correct product for your investment needs. If you require any more information or clarification before you make your decision, please do not hesitate to contact us.

About us

The Contribution Only SIPP is one of several Hartley SIPPs that are each self-invested personal pension schemes established under one master trust deed and set of rules (copies of which are available on request) and registered in accordance with the Finance Act 2004. Each Hartley SIPP is provided and operated by Hartley Pensions Limited, a UK-registered company under number 09469576 which is authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) to provide regulated products and services. The trustee of Hartley SIPPs is Hartley Pensions Trustees Limited, a UK-registered company under number 09962237. Hartley Pensions Limited and Hartley Pensions Trustees Limited have entered into a service agreement with Hartley-SAS Limited for the provision of day-to-day administration services relating to your Hartley SIPP. Hartley-SAS Limited, a UK-registered company under number 06037774 will be your first point of contact in relation to your Hartley SIPP ("your SIPP") - contact details are below.

Risk

Investments can fall as well as rise and you may find that the value of your SIPP does not meet your investment expectations. Past performance of investments is not necessarily an indication of future performance. You should also consider how long you are required to hold a particular investment and if this is suitable for your lifestyle and investment aims. If investing outside of the UK for example, you may experience higher dealing costs and may be subject to varying exchange rates. You should also be aware that the investment/s you choose may pose a liquidity risk and you should consider the timespan of your investment/s and how easily you can disinvest should you wish to do so. We do not give financial or tax advice under any circumstances. We may be asked to pass on information to you from a particular investment platform; this information should not be construed as us giving advice or recommendations of any sort. With the freedom to choose your own investments comes responsibility; you should make sure that you are comfortable making investment decisions. Please note that all of our SIPPs are denominated in British Pounds therefore you may experience bank charges when investing in products with a different currency. You may incur additional external charges depending on the particular investment provider you choose. Our charging schedule is described below and also on our website, www.hartleypensions.com.

What is a SIPP?

A Self-Invested Personal Pension or SIPP is a tax-efficient investment vehicle through which you can invest in a wide range of UK and international investment products. A SIPP offers up to 45% tax relief on contributions. Any investment gains that arise from your SIPP are free from income, dividend and capital gains tax.

What is a Contribution Only SIPP?

The Contribution Only SIPP is for people wishing to make just one investment. This product benefits from a low fee structure. You cannot transfer another pension into this SIPP.

What other types of SIPPs do you offer?

We offer the Abacus SIPP, Empire SIPP, Prosperity SIPP and the Junior SIPP. We have a separate KFD and information sheet per product; please contact us if you would like to enquire about one of the other SIPPs.

Who can open a Hartley SIPP?

Any UK-resident person can open a Hartley SIPP. Please note that we only accept applications via an FCA-regulated financial advisor.

How do I open a Hartley SIPP?

To open a Hartley SIPP you need to:

- read our Hartley Pensions Limited Terms and Conditions, this Key Features Document and any other documentation which we provide you with, very carefully. All of our terms are on our website: www.hartleypensions.com
- be aware of the risks attached to a Hartley SIPP and be comfortable with the fact that the value of your investments could drop as well as rise

- complete and send to us the relevant application form. All of our forms are on our website: www.hartleypensions.com
- make a contribution to your SIPP

By choosing to open a Hartley SIPP, you are agreeing to be bound by our Terms and Conditions and the rules of the Hartley Pension SIPP Scheme and to make fee payments as and when requested by us.

Can I change my mind?

Yes, you have a legal right to cancel the establishment of your SIPP, within 30 days of when you receive our welcome pack which contains a cancellation notice. Please note that any fees incurred during the time between the establishment of the SIPP and the cancellation will be borne by you. Similarly, any losses on investments are borne by you.

How much money can I contribute in a year and what tax relief will I receive on contributions?

There is no limit on the amount of money you can contribute to your SIPP each year but the amount you contribute may have tax implications. The contribution amounts are based on your UK relevant earnings. If you have no relevant UK earnings then you are still able to make contributions up to £3,600 each year. If you do have relevant UK earnings then you can receive tax relief on contributions up to the amount you earn, to a maximum of £40,000. We will claim tax relief at the basic rate (currently 20%) from HMRC on a monthly basis.

However, if you make contributions above the current limit of £40,000, you may incur a tax charge via HMRC's the 'annual allowance tax charge'. The annual allowance is set each year by the UK Government and therefore may change in the future. Further information on the annual allowance tax charge and on contributions in general is available on the technical pages of our website, www.hartleypensions.com. Please seek specialist tax advice if you have specific tax concerns. All contributions made into a Hartley SIPP are subject to a correctly completed contributions form which can be found on our website, www.hartleypensions.com

Is there a minimum contribution level?

If you transfer your existing pension to a Hartley SIPP there is no requirement to make any contribution. There is no minimum level for one off or regular monthly contributions.

Who can contribute to my SIPP?

You can make personal contributions, other people can make contributions e.g. your spouse or parents, and your employer can make contributions.

Can I have more than one SIPP?

We would not open two Hartley SIPPs for you but it is possible to have another SIPP with a different provider. If you run two SIPPs concurrently you may have to pay a tax relief charge to HMRC if you have received more than the allocated tax relief in any one year.

Who manages my investment portfolio held in my Hartley SIPP?

You will be required to appoint a financial advisor to manage your portfolio. We are neither investment advisors nor managers, nor do we give any financial or tax advice.

Can I hold property in any of the Hartley SIPPs?

If you would like to hold commercial property in your SIPP, you will need to open an Empire SIPP. However, if you would like to invest in property indirectly through shares, this can be achieved by investing through a Hartley SIPP. Please note that Hartley SIPPs cannot hold residential property.

What happens if I choose a non-standard asset?

Our Investment Committee will consider your case and decide if the investment is suitable to be held within a Hartley SIPP.

How can I check the value of my pension?

You can phone us during office hours (9am to 5pm) and we will be able to tell you the current value of your fund. We will send you a yearly statement for your records. It is also prudent to review your SIPP on a regular basis to ensure that it is the correct product for your investment needs.

When can I access my SIPP?

The earliest age you can start taking money from your SIPP is 55 years (due to rise to 57 in 2028) unless you are in serious ill health, as defined by the Finance Act 2004.

How can I take my benefits from my SIPP?

The Contribution Only SIPP does not offer the option of paying benefits. Once you have reached the retirement age and wish to take benefits, you will either need to transfer to another Hartley SIPP or to another pension provider.

What happens to my SIPP if I die?

When we are notified of your death by your personal representative, we will ask for a copy of your death certificate. We will carry out due diligence on the beneficiary and then discuss options with him or her. Please note that the trustee retains ultimate discretion over the distribution of your pension, despite a beneficiary being named.

If you die before you reach the age of 75, your beneficiary can choose:

1. to take a tax-free lump sum or transfer the SIPP into their own name or an external pension scheme. If you die after the age of 75, your beneficiary can choose to take the whole pot as a lump sum but this will be subject to a tax charge at the marginal rate of the beneficiary; or
2. to transfer the SIPP into a SIPP of their own or take a regular income from the deceased's pension through what is called pension drawdown, which will be taxed at the beneficiary's normal rate of income tax; or

3. to elect to take periodical lump sums. These payments will be treated as income, therefore would be taxable at the beneficiary's normal rate of income tax. The SIPP must be kept open but transferred to the name of the beneficiary and all normal charges e.g. administration fees will apply.

Do I have to choose a beneficiary to receive my pension if I die?

No. Clients normally choose a beneficiary e.g. a spouse or a child. This is not legally required but we strongly recommend that you do tell us of your wishes to help ensure we consider paying the correct beneficiaries.

How much does a Contribution Only SIPP cost?

Contribution Only SIPP	Uncrystallised
Establishment Fee	£50 setup + VAT
Annual Administration Fee	£50 + VAT pa

Fee information is also available on our website, www.hartleypensions.com

When do I pay the annual fee?

We will withdraw the annual fee from your account on a yearly basis, a year from when your SIPP was established.

Are there any other costs I should be aware of?

The only other costs are:

Divorce cost fees	£750 + VAT
Paying Death Benefits	£300 + VAT
Increase in Administration fees if an asset defined by the FCA as being non-standard is held.	£250 + VAT per annum

Do you set up a bank account for me?

Yes, a bank account will be set up in the name of your SIPP, currently at RBS. Please note that no interest is payable by RBS at present.

Cash balance

Please note that we require your SIPP to maintain a balance of at least £1,000 in cash.

Ability to disinvest

If you owe us outstanding administration fees, we reserve the right to disinvest from your most liquid investment, including cash.

If I am not satisfied, can I transfer out to another provider?

Yes, you can transfer out to another provider as long as the provider is HMRC-approved. We are so confident that you will happy with our service that we do not charge a transfer out fee.

If I have any queries, who can I speak to?

Hartley SAS Limited ("Hartley") provides scheme administration services to Hartley Pensions Limited. Upon opening a Hartley SIPP you will be assigned a dedicated SIPP administrator at Hartley who will answer any of your queries by telephone or email. Hartley is not a call centre; all of the SIPP team are pension professionals who have gained or are currently studying towards industry-recognised pension qualifications.

Is my money protected in any way?

Whilst your money is being held in your SIPP bank account which we set up for you, it is covered by the FSCS's UK deposit recovery scheme, up to the maximum (£85,000 at the time of writing). When your money is invested on a particular platform/s it may not be covered by the FSCS – please discuss this with your financial advisor. For more information, please visit: www.fscs.org.uk
